LESLIE

Vital Statistics: 40-26-35

Age: 23

On Men: I prefer older men. Most men in their late 30's or early 40's are experienced enough not to have to play games with women. I can't stand "little boys" who come on to me at discos or parties and expect me to be impressed with their silly schoolboy humour. Give me a man who's seen some of the world and I'll show him a bit more.

On Work: I'm a secretary. The job's a horror but the people are nice. I work for money and nothing else.

On Play: I like rock music, lying on the beach in summer, picnics and parties. I don't have a regular boyfriend and that's the way I like it.

On Life: Look, I'm young and unattached. The thought of marriage and children scares me. That's not to say they won't happen some day it's just that they're not on my agenda at the moment. And I'm not a career women either. I don't even know what I'll be doing next week let alone four or five years from now. A lot of people accuse me of being irresponsible and only living life for the pleasures I can get out of it. Well what's wrong with that. If I meet a guy and like him I'll let him share my bed but it doesn't mean I have to share the rest of my life with him.

On Sex: It's good while it lasts. As long as it lasts and lasts.

MOLLY

Vital Statistics: 54-33-42

Age: 32

On Men: If he's skinny he can forget it. It's not that I don't like skinny men it's just that a man has to have big hands and big arms if he wants to get the most out of a relationship with me.

On Work: I work in a clothing factory which is quite good really. There aren't too many outfits I can buy off the rack that'll fit me up top. I can't sew but working where I do, there are plenty of other women who can make my tops for me. Bras are a real problem though. Once you get bigger than 46 inches you're into the "custom made" area and that's expensive.

On Play: I love watching old movies and dining in good restaurants. And believe it or not, ice skating is my favourite sport. I know you think I'd have trouble keeping my balance with such big tits but I'm surprisingly light on my feet, so there!

On Life: Every day the news is full of gloom and doom but what's the point in worrying. No amount of worrying ever stopped a plane from crashing or a war from starting. If it's going to happen it'll happen. Just lie back and enjoy it honey.

On Sex: I'm a very sensual person. I enjoy sex and I like to please my men.

KISSOGRAM GIRLS EXPOSED

The UK's Kissogram Girls are big business. But the success of the business depends on finding women with great bodies and deliciously big tits.

You can see from the photographs that business is good. When these shots were taken the girls were in training at a secluded country mansion for their hot video "Sexy Secrets of the Kissogram Girls".

Aerobics and weight training were part of the exercise routine as the girls learned the difficult art of stripping their clothes off and flashing their monstrous melons in either the shower or in skimpy underwear.

What we can't work out is why the girls needed any weight training at all. I mean take a look at Liz, Geraldine and Nikky (above). They're all 44" bra breakers. You'd think that would be more than enough weight to be carting around with you every day.

"Sexy Secrets of the Kissogram Girls" was released by Enter Video.

KAREN'S HAPPY IN A NAPPY

Busty beauties swelled the ranks of clubgoers at Stringfellows in London when Kissogram boss Michael Fine party hosted a special for his bosom Pals. Joan Collins' "friend" Bill Wiggins was among the guests enjoying the charms of top glamour models such as Tina Shaw and Lindy Drew.

Another of the main attractions was curvy Karen "Boobs" Baby who looked as if it was past her bedtime. She's pictured here looking for someone to tuck her in "nighty night" however you'd need to be some kind of miracle worker to tuck Karen in.

Tuck her in, never. Tuck into her, well, that's a definite possibility.

LOU

Vital Statistics: 43-26-35

Age: 22

On Men: I think Mediterranean men make the best lovers. They are very passionate and very jealous. The only problem is that they have trouble sticking with the one woman. So unless you're prepared to let them wander a bit, forget it. Me, well, what they don't find out won't hurt them.

On Work: I'm a nurse. It's a great job but the hours are lousy and so is the money. I'd like a job which paid more but I really get a lot of satisfaction from nursing and I don't know whether a better paid job elsewhere would hold my interest. It's a bit of a dilemma and I can't see how I'm going to solve it.

On Play: The problem with nursing is you have to work strange hours and mostly you end up socialising with other nurses because they're the only people who have the same time off. On rostered days off I head straight for the beach while free nights see me either at parties or restaurants.

On Life: At the moment it's six days on and two days off for the next month. Then I get five straight days off and I'm heading north. That's as far ahead as I want to think at the moment.

On Sex: Everybody says that nurses are real ravers and can't get enough. They're spot on as far as I'm concerned!

Veronica

Vital Statistics: 40-25-35

Age: 19

On Men: Men have to be men. I can't stand guys who think that they should be interested in things like cooking and gardening. I can't stand cooking and gardening. Give me a man who likes a beer, doesn't mind roughing it and treats a woman like a woman. That doesn't mean I want to be left at home while he spends all day at the pub with his mates, it's just that I know guys need to have a bit of freedom to go to the footy, have a few beers and not have to think about the "woman" at home.

On Work: I'm a receptionist in a doctor's surgery but not for much longer. It's too depressing. I've got a friend who works for a computer company and I'll probably be able to get a secretarial job there soon.

On Play: Water skiing is my latest thrill. I tried it a couple of times last summer and managed to get up on two skis without falling off straight away. This summer I want to ski as much as I can and try to get up on one ski. I'd also like to do a scuba diving course.

On Life: I just want to be able to enjoy every age I am. You know, when I turn 30 I'd like to think that I'll enjoy that age without spending half my time trying to look 24 or 25, and when I turn 40, 50, 60 — the same thing. Look at women like Jane Fonda. She's in her forties and in better shape than most women half her age. Most guys half her age wouldn't mind a workout with her.

On Sex: Sex with the risk of being caught is the best. You know what I mean — in a lift which is stuck between floors, that sort of thing. A lot of women really get off on that kind of sex.

Carmel

Vital Statistics: 40½-24-36

Age: 27

On Men: There were five kids in my family and I was the only girl. Which means I grew up with bad language, dirty jokes, being teased, the whole bit. I don't think it's possible to embarrass me. I've heard most of the lines guys use to pick up birds so my ideal man is one who's got something original and a very good sense of humour. Sure looks are important but a guy has to have something upstairs also.

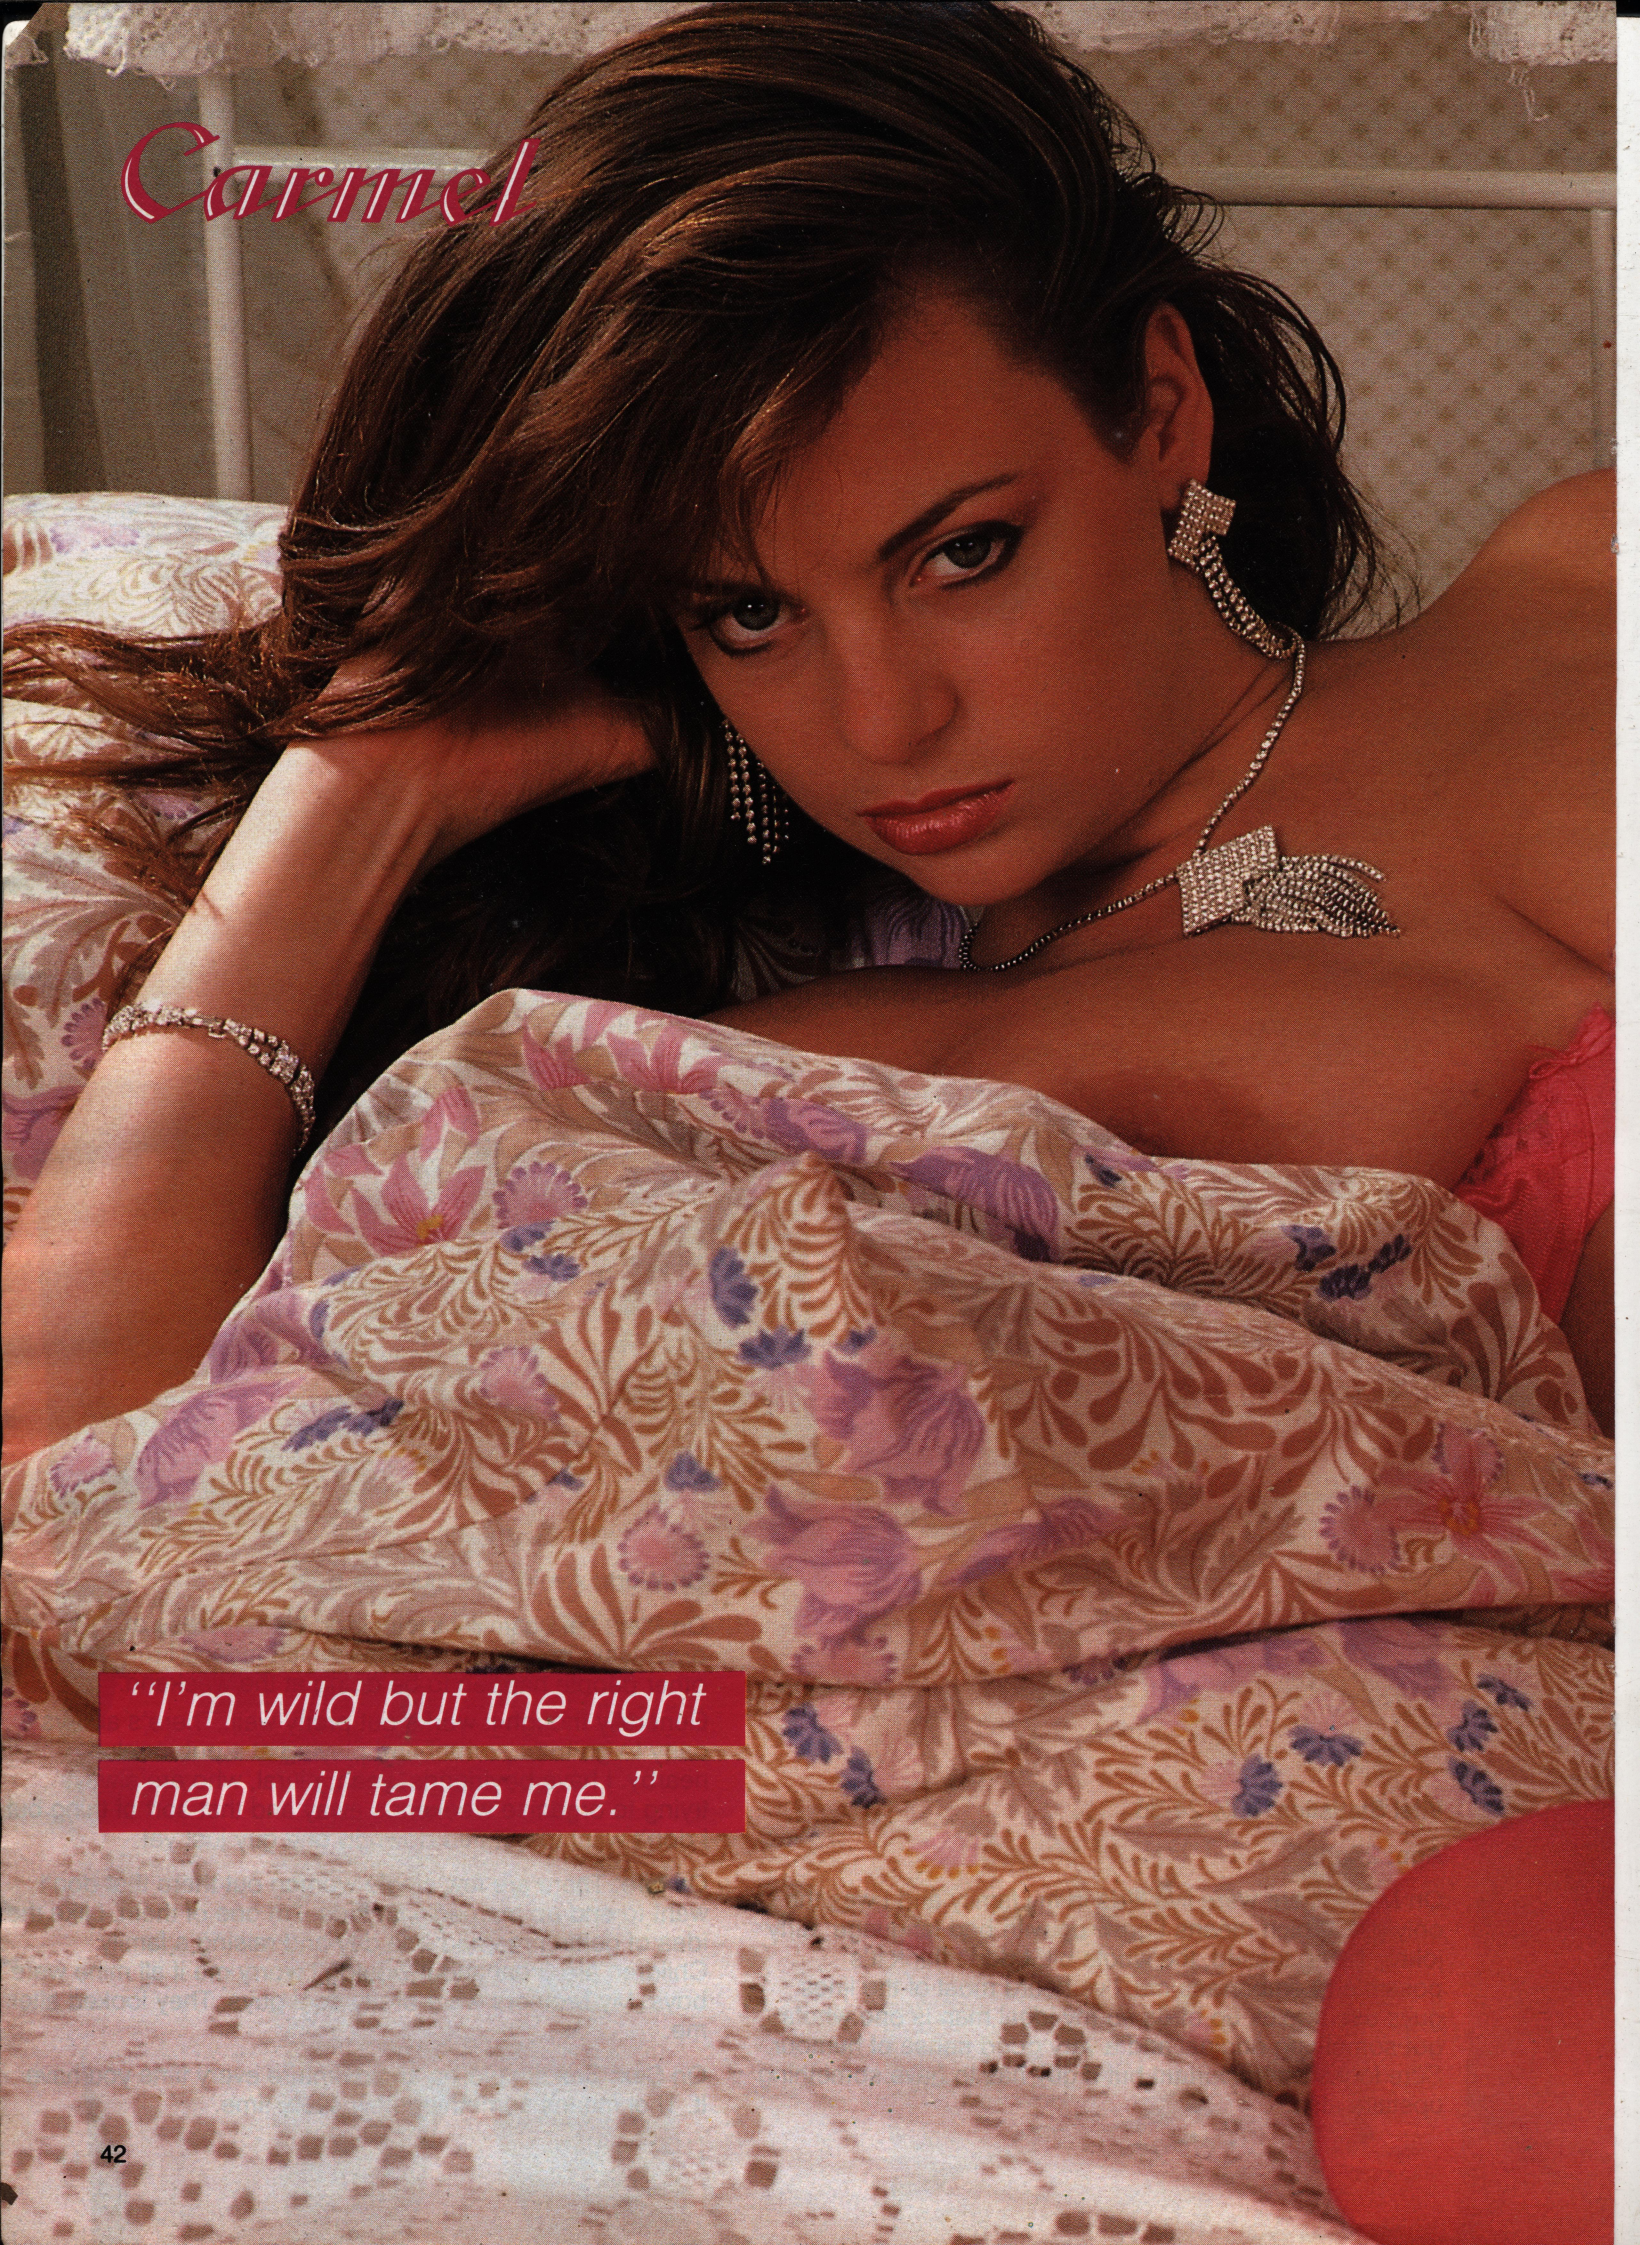

On Work: Avoid it as much as possible.

On Play: I'm basically pretty lazy. I'm hopeless at organising my own spare time which means I rely on what other people happen to be doing at the weekend.

Generally though it works out pretty well. There's always a party to go to or some band playing at a pub or club nearby. I have boyfriends, yeah, plural, who are always trying to organise weekends away and that sort of thing but I don't want to get tied down to one guy just yet.

On Life: There are few single women out there that don't want to end up married with kids. I'm one of them. I like the idea of getting married one day and raising a family. Children are great and it wouldn't worry me if all mine were boys. My brothers were pretty cool guys. They looked after me.

On Sex: Sex should be an adventure every time you have it. That means something new every time.

ERICA

Vital Statistics: 40-24-36

Age: 22

On Men: I'm a one man woman. I've had a few boyfriends and I'm sure I'll have several more before the right guy comes along. Men these days just seem to be on the defensive as far as women are concerned. They're afraid they might be seen as too macho or chauvinistic. Just be a man is all I say.

On Work: I've got my own business placing temporary staff in secretarial and clerical positions. It's a good job. I meet some great people.

On Play: I play as hard as I can. I don't get a lot of spare time so I can't afford to waste it.

On Life: I'd love to be able to make enough money from my business to allow me to do some travelling. When you work for yourself, holidays are pretty rare except at Christmas, when everybody else is on holidays. But I can't complain. Nobody forced me to work for myself.

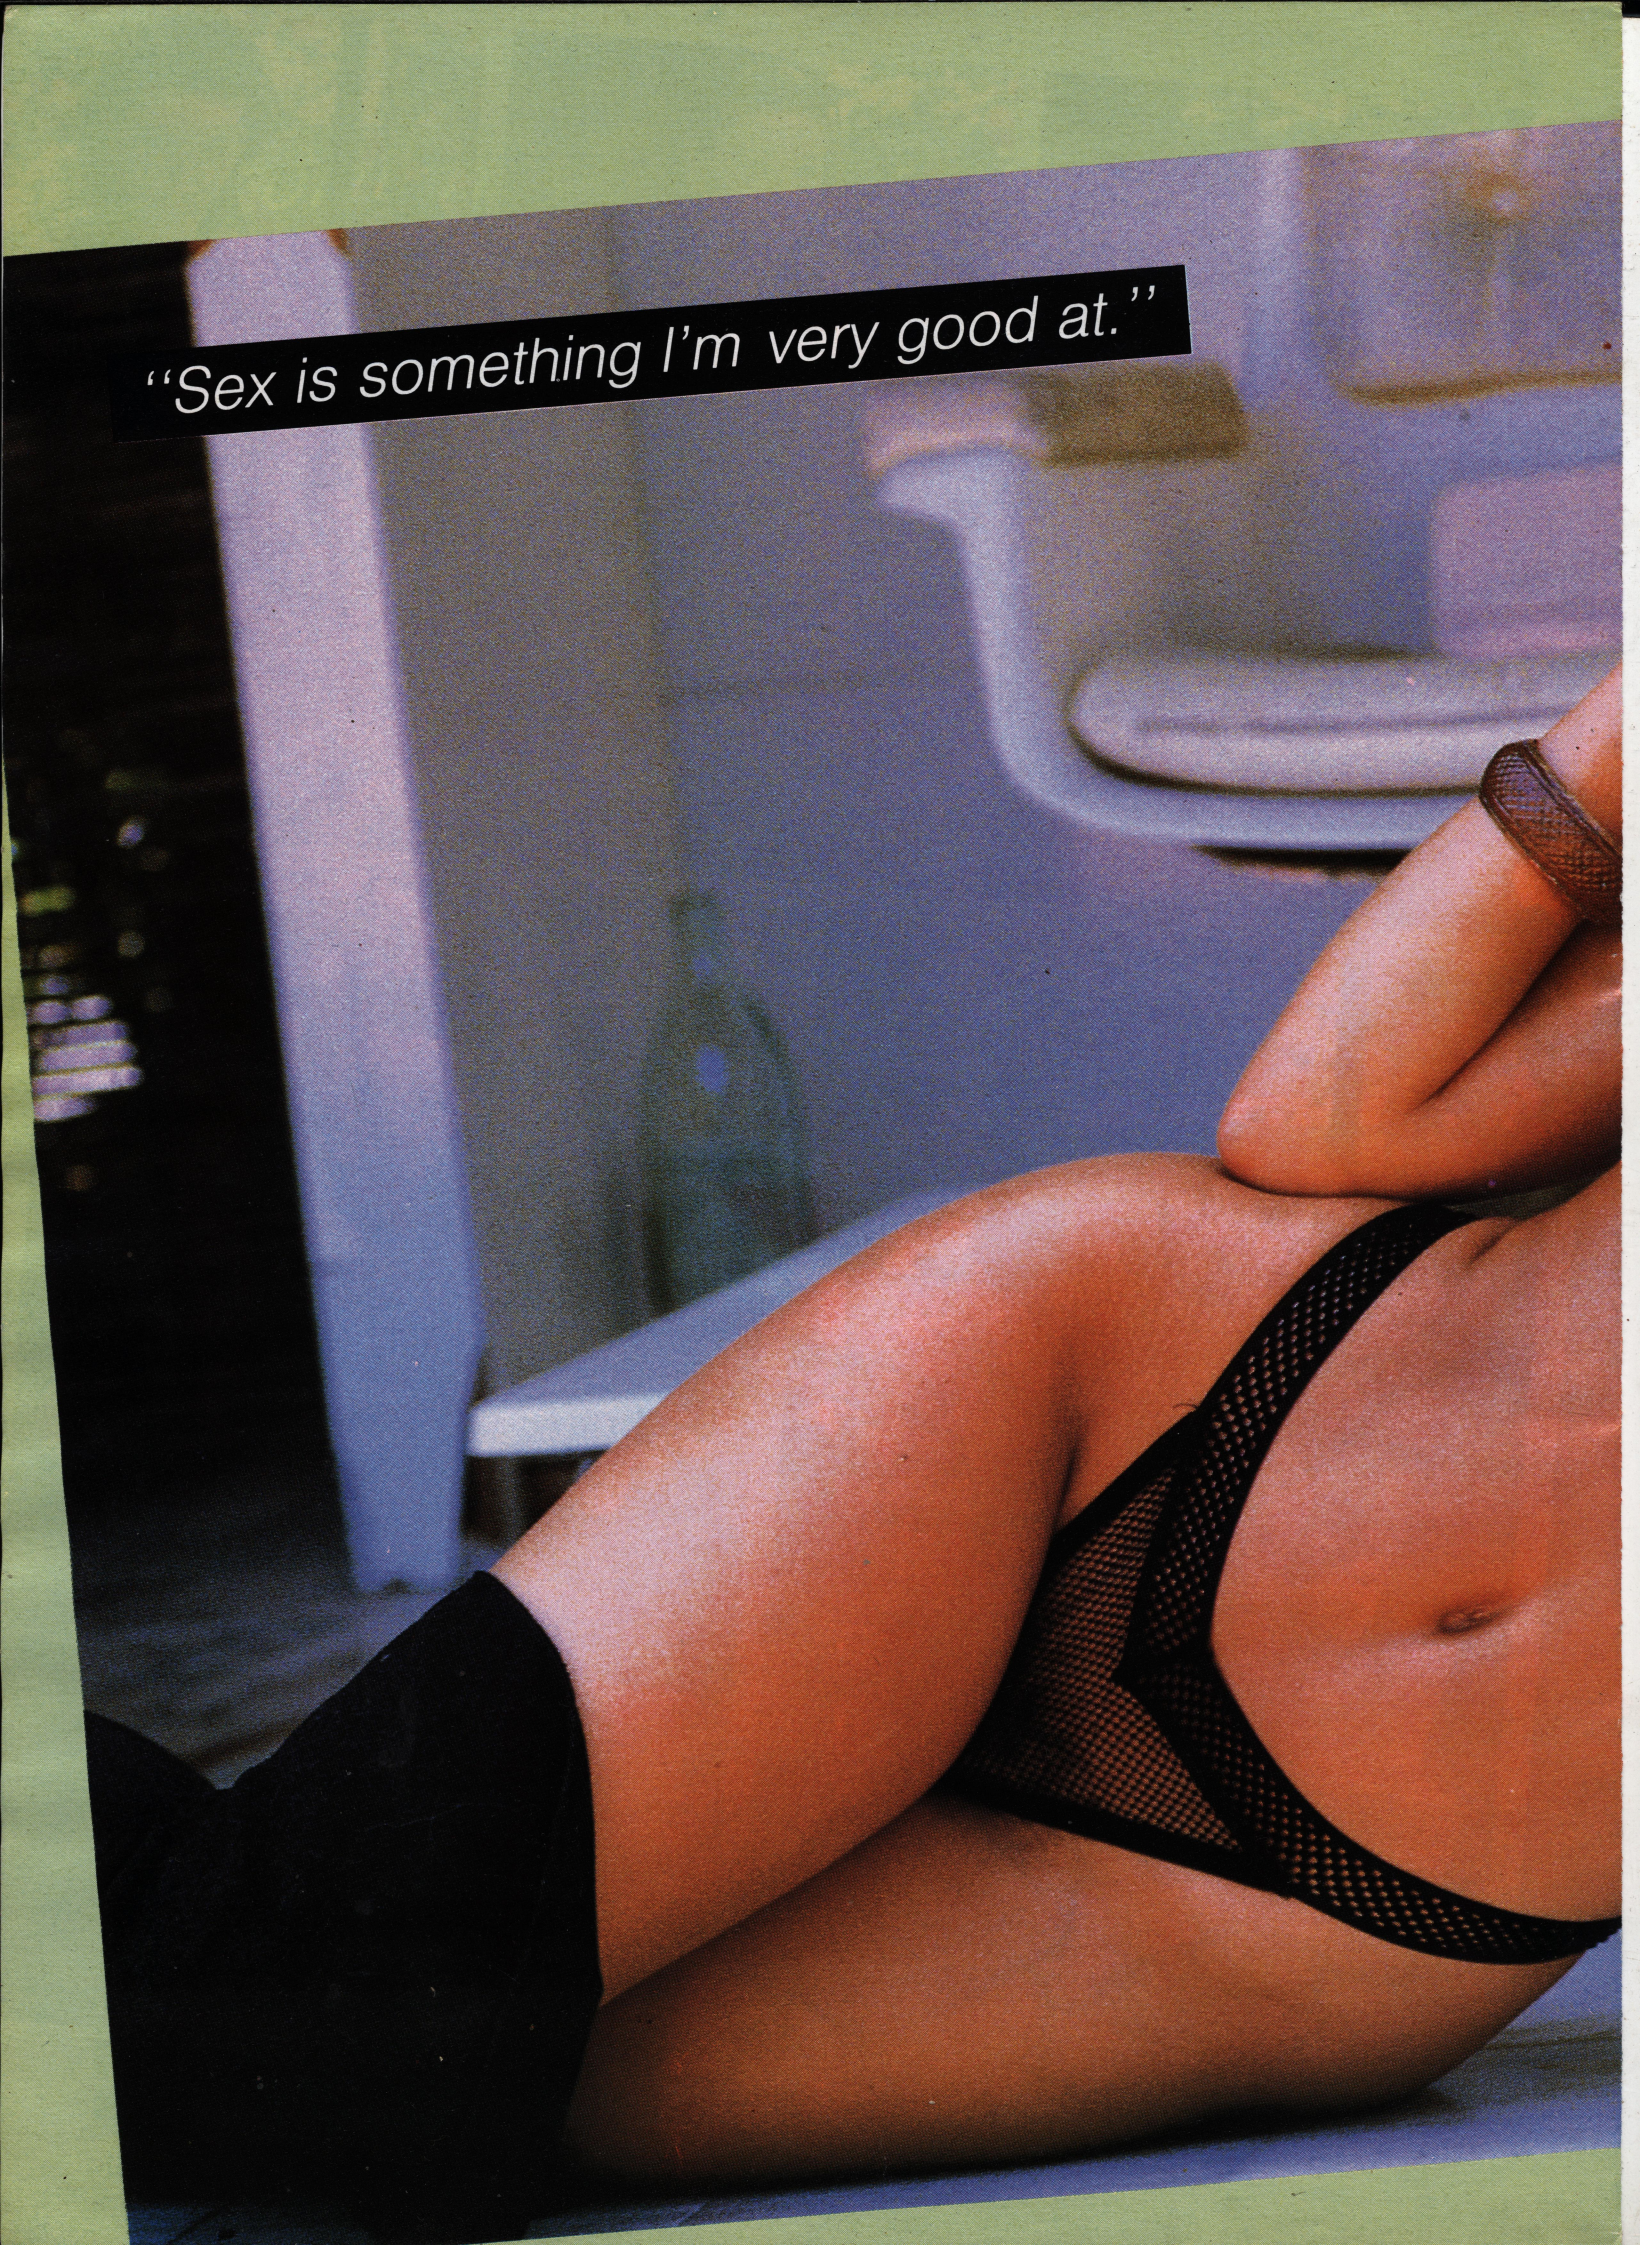

On Sex: To me the questions about play and sex are one and the same and they get the same answer.

"Sex is something I'm very good at."

Candice

Vital Statistics: 48-27-37

Age: 25

On Men: Just give me a man who can satisfy me.

On Work: I'm a photographic lab assistant. It's great work but sometimes you feel like you are looking through a keyhole at other people's lives. Some of the stuff people want to get developed is outrageous.

On Play: Photography is my hobby and I'm quite good at it. I particularly like photographing people. An old man fishing, children playing, people sitting in the park just thinking about their lives — there's so much to photograph.

On Life: It would be nice if it was as simple as the camera makes it seem.

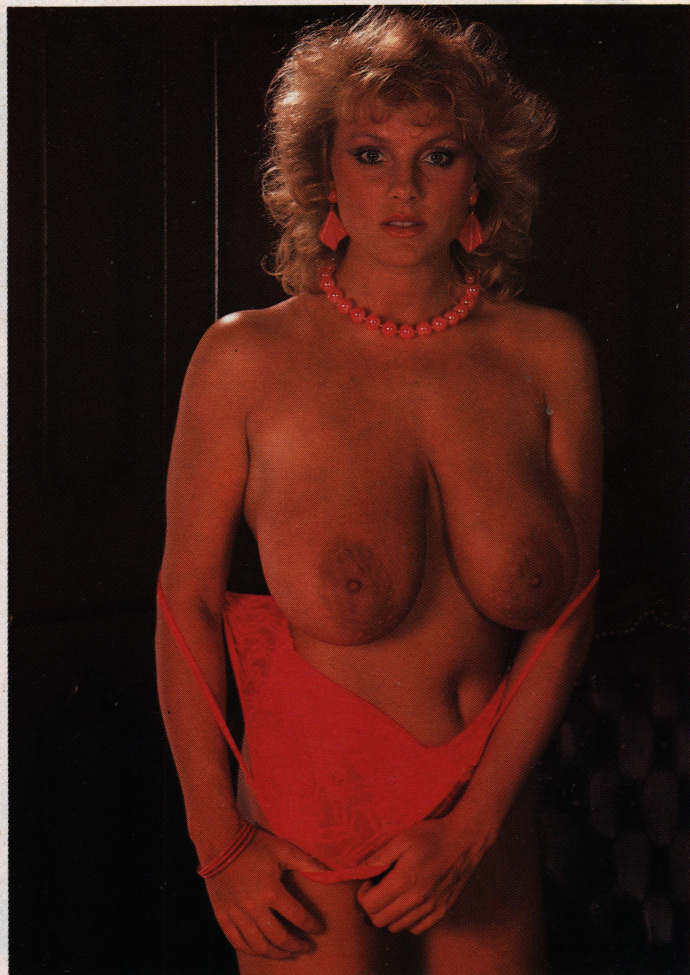

On Sex: Sex has always been a very private thing for me. I suppose it stems from me continually looking at other people's lives. I like privacy and I like my men to treat me as something special.

ANOTHER WET T-SHIRT COMPETITION

HANGING OUT FOR A FEED

It's a set menu at the "Breast Restaurant in Town". And what a set. Forget blackboard menus boys, this is the only way to order a bite. And for sweets the waitress recommends ripe pears with cherries on top.

MISS & MR NUDE WORLD?

It was supposed to be a mixed contest but how come all the contestants are women and 99 per cent of the audience are men? The bird in the orange-sheet gets our vote, mainly because you can't see her body, while the fat guy in the green shirt is a special for the men's section.

Vital Statistics: 40-24-34

Age: 20

On Men: Maria Whittaker is a pretty fit girl and any man who wants to take her on has to be in good shape. She's been quoted as saying that her fame seems to scare a lot of men off, even to the point where she doesn't get chatted up. Her ideal man is good looking, intelligent and wealthy.

On Work: Since the age of 17 she's been a page 3 girl, calendar girl, and international photographic model. Her body is her livelihood and business is good.

On Play: Swimming, dancing and being invited to parties all around the world. She mixes with the rich and famous largely because at the ripe old age of 20, she's rich and famous.

On Life: Maria's got many years of top modelling assignments in front of her and there will be no shortage of good looking, intelligent, wealthy men to help her through the rest of her life once the glitter of fame and fortune has worn off.

On Sex: For someone with such a big public profile, Maria Whittaker has managed to keep very quiet about the sex side of her life. But obviously some men aren't scared off.

LEONIE

Vital Statistics: 40-23-34

Age: 24

On Men: The right man for me, black or white, is one who can look at me and see me as a woman first rather than just some lanky black chick with big tits.

On Work: I'm your typical public servant. Boring clerical job in a boring department. Start at nine, finish at five. But it's amazing the way people in the public service change after work has finished. All day it's as if they're in some sort of trance — walk around and do their jobs like robots. Then, after work, it's off for drinks down the local, jokes, laughing, it's like they've peeled off a mask they've been wearing all day.

On Play: I love discos and nightclubs. I'd probably spend three or four nights a week out with friends. Come Sunday I like a nice, quiet day at home reading or cooking. Just winding down from the week and taking it easy before the next one starts.

On Life: Just recently I've started to have some serious thoughts about what I want to do with my life. I mean there has to come a time when a girl either decides to travel down a career path or decide on marriage and family. I'm only 24 but very soon I'm going to have to say to myself, "Right Leonie, this is it." If I had to decide right now it would probably be career.

On Sex: I love it and I'm good at it.
